

Jonne Bendlöv

Born 1985 in the small town Västerås, a good hour drive from the Swedish capital Stockholm, Jonne Bendlöv was raised in a musical family with both parents working as professional musicians. From an early age he picked up the trumpet and later on also started playing drums.

After studies in music ending with a degree at the Royal Music Academy in Stockholm, he has profiled himself as one of the most versatile musicians on the Swedish music scene, working in several different genres and styles, both as a trumpet player as well as a producer and arranger.

Selected credits includes work with the acclaimed Swedish acts Bo Kaspers Orkester and First Aid Kit, appearances on major international artists tracks such as Ariana Grande and Tori Kelly and producing the music for British lifestyle magazine Monocles's podcast series "Monocle 24"
